“ I am so very sorry for your loss. I met your mom about 9 yrs ago at Sterling House in Leesburg where I volunteered. I then "followed" her up to Lexington Park to continue to visit a very special new friend of mine. I like to think that we became very good friends over the years and she was an inspiration to me. I truly felt that she was a wonderful example of how to age gracefully. She had such a zest for life and always enjoyed decorating her door for the season. I always had a smile as I approached her room and saw her newest creations. How she loved her family!! She was so excited about the recent marriage of her grandson. She couldn't wait to tell me all about the special day. She shared her faith with me and we enjoyed talking about our Christian beliefs. I will truly miss my visits with her as I always was trying to decide what chocolate treat or cute, bright earrings to buy her to make her smile. Truly she did so much more for me than I ever could do for her. I feel truly Blessed to have known her and will always love her and pray for her. I will remember you all in my prayers. Love, Barbara
