“ My darling baby girl Tammy. You will never know how much I will miss you. Even when you were in pain you always continued to praise the Lord. When you get to heaven, God's got a crown for you. I will always love and carry you in my heart although you're gone. I will see you one day when we meet Jesus face to face. You are gone but not forgotten. Love you with all my heart.

“ My sister, my friend. I love you more than words can say. Your never failing faith was a testimony to all who knew you. You fought a good fight, never wavering. My heart is broken because I'll never see your smiling face again or hear you laugh which you did a lot of no matter how much pain you were in. I look forward to the day when I can walk hand and hand with you on those golden streets in glory.
