“ I miss you, Tay. I remember that first night you were visiting Maine and you hugged me and we looked up at the huge sky full of stars, and I thought that life couldn't get any better than that. Every time I look at that huge Maine sky full of stars, I will see you up there. There were things I wanted to say to you, but never did, and the last time we talked was before our birthdays in December. Somehow I hope you know what I would've said. Please watch down over your loved ones and take good care of them until you meet again.

“ Bernadette and family, We have thought about you and your family since this tragedy happened and we know there are no adequate words to comfort you at this time. Just know you have been in our thoughts and prayers for days and will continue to be in the days to come. You had a wonderful son and I'm sure you have so many wonderful memories. Some people don't have that much, so you will at least know in your heart that your son loved you so much. Our love and best wishes are coming your way and hoping you can start to heal in the near future.

“ Taylor touched the lives and hearts of so many. You were such wonderful father and person. You will forever be remembered. I remember one Christmas Eve when Courtney was pregnant the two of you came by the house and I was trying to put a drum set together-you put it together and saved the day. Thank You. I also will never forget the vacation you went on with us to beach. Emma was a few months old. It rained the ENTIRE time. It never stopped. I know you will watch over our precious Emma-I just wish you were doing it from here. I wish there were more people like you-the world would be a better place. My prayers and thoughts go out to all of the family and friends of Taylor.

“ Taylor, this doesn't seem real. I just found out today what happened. You and I spoke just 2 hours before the accident. You were like a brother to me. We spoke almost everyday for the past 4 years. My heart is heavy thinking about you. From the first time we laughed at friends at MMI until now seems like yesterday. I'll see you again someday, and I hope you haven't changed a bit. I love you man and your family will stay in my prayers. God speed.

“ Tay - You came into our lives and found a place for yourself, a place where you could love and be loved. Our lives will never be the same without you. I love you for many reasons, but I love you the most because you loved my girls. Know that you were our family and you touched our lives deeply. We will always make sure Emma remembers how amazing you are. And we know that you will watch over Courtney & Emma for all the days to come. We love you and miss you.

“ I knew Taylor from my "Florida days" - several years ago when him and my boyfriend went to MMI together. Taylor was one of the sweetest guys I have ever met; words cannot even begin to describe his wonderful personality. Mark and I are both very saddened by his loss. Though we are 1,400 miles away in Michigan and much time has passed, the memories remain. Our thoughts and prayers go out to his friends and family. May he R.I.P. ❤️
