“ I realize that my response is late, but I still wanted to express my feelings and sincerest condolences to Mr. Speidel's family for their loss. He was truly an inspiration to me and among the most amazing teachers that I had the pleasure of being a student of. I can proudly say that my passion for chemistry during college and the reason why I became a pharmacist was largely attributed to him and the inspiration that he had on me. May he continue to rest in great peace and may God bless his family.
