“ I remember meeting you when you were just 5 years old. What a spitfire you were. Over the years I watched you grow from a little boy into a caring young man and a loving father. I will miss our visits and conversations. God bless you and your family. Love you Tadpole.

“ I remember the first time I met Todd—he came to my home with my daughter, Atalia, and asked if he could date her and he wanted us to have a good relationship.

It didn't take long for us to become best friends. That was Todd's superpower that he made everyone feel like he was their best friend; whether it was his mom, mil, wife, or dear friend. Todd was easy to talk to and confide in.

I love you like a Son, unconditionally and this world has lost a sweet, young, light. But Heaven has gained an Angel, so give my daughter and grandson a big hug and kiss from me and I'll see you later, Tadd.

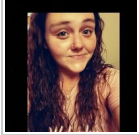

*Love always,
Mama-Kate*
