“ Todd and I worked together for 5 years and we formed a bond that lasted for close to 20 years. We talked all the time sometimes for hours even though we had spoke the week before. I loved him dearly and we shared so much together. I made a special book for him about Garth and Rory which he treasured. One time I visited him when he was in Orlando and I brought a new pair of red pjs. The constantly left lint on his carpet and he was right behind me every step with the Hoover LOL. By the third night we were both done with each other and we joked about those darn pjs for years. I just found out he passed and I am truly devastated. There will never be another Todd. Todd, when we meet in heaven we will smoke a big fat one! Love you forever.
