“ Wally was a good friend. I remember him as a caring, loving man with a huge heart. He could make me laugh until I cried and when that happened I told myself to memorize the story so that whenever I felt blue and needed a good laugh I could recall it. It was wonderful medicine. And he made our wedding so memorable taking fantastic candid photos. Wally, you were a treasure of a friend and we were blessed to know you. You are missed by our entire family.
