“ Grandma you will be missed. I miss hearing your voice, I have all the memories that we made. But I wish you were not gone! I had plans on going and see you the next day before I got the call saying your were gone. No body will ever know the pain I went through and still have. I know you are not suffering anymore and that you are in a better place. But it sucks that you are gone. I love you and I miss you every day
